ABRAMO MARCUCCI, PROMINENT MAN, DIES

Old Resident Succumbed to Paralysis Last Sunday After Seven Weeks' Illness.

Abramo Marcucci, for fifty years a resident of Sonoma Valley, succumbed to a stroke of paralysis Sunday last after seven weeks' illness. Prior to being stricken, Mr. Marcucci enjoyed the best health, and despite his 72 years was a fine looking old gentleman, agile, straight, and retaining much of his naturally splendid physique. He had been prominent in the farming life of the community for many years, although for the past eight or nine years he had retired to a pretty bungalow at Agua Caliente, where he lived with his wife, enjoying his declining days in ease and comfort.

Mr. Marcucci came to California from his native Italy when a boy 15 years of age, and settled first at San Pedro. Later he came to this valley and here married and reared a large family of children. Through thrift and intelligent effort, Marcucci made a big success of farming, both on the Snyder ranch in this valley and on the Behler ranch at Lakeville. After coming back to Sonoma Valley from the Behler ranch, he settled at Embarcadero, where he kept the Embarcadero Hotel, now owned by Ben Myer. For twelve years he was in business there, during which time he and his wife suffered the loss of a number of their children through diphtheria. His wife also died while the family resided at Embarcadero.

About nine years ago Mr. Marcucci remarried, his present wife surviving him in addition to his daughters, Mrs. Wm. Church, Mrs. Pauline Rickets, and his son, Tony Marcucci. During the war a son, Abramo Jr., died while enroute to France to fight for the U. S. A.

Deceased was an exemplary citizen, honest and straightforward in all his dealings, and in addition to his family he leaves many friends throughout the county to mourn his passing.

The funeral took place Wednesday from St. Francis church, the pallbearers being Messrs. Boccoli, Ciucci, Pinelli, Keechler, Baccala and Breitenbach. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery.

INDEX-TRIBUNE PRINTING 1920 GREAT REGISTER

The office of the Index-Tribune is a busy establishment these days as the Great Register for 1920, containing the lists of voters and their addresses in every precinct of Sonoma County, is being printed here. It is a big job, the biggest ever done in a Sonoma Valley printing office, and the force has been augmented by several new employees, both a day and a night shift being engaged in the work of getting out the books for the primary election.

F. W. Cooke, former proprietor of the Healdsburg Tribune, and who handled the same job there on two occasions, is assisting the proprietor of the Index-Tribune in turning out the work which will be up to the highest standard of workmanship and accuracy.

Easter Sunday was an ideal day and the attendance at all churches was especially large.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wyatt who had secured a divorce some three years ago, were remarried in Santa Rosa this week and are being warmly congratulated by old friends.

Mrs. Arthur Drake of Calistoga spent Easter Sunday with her father, George Engler. Mrs. Drake has been suffering from rheumatism since a recent attack of "flu."

INTERNAL REVENUE DETECTIVES RAID UNION HOTEL AND SEVERAL SONOMA VALLEY RESORTS

FEDERAL OPERATORS SEARCH AND SEIZE WINE AND LIQUOR AFTER SPECTACULAR ONSLAUGHT FRIDAY AND SATURDAY OF LAST WEEK—DESTROY QUANTITY AT CALIENTE

About nine o'clock Friday night of last week two government prohibition enforcement agents descended upon the Union Hotel and searched it from top to bottom for evidence of wines and liquors which they evidently believed were concealed on the premises by John Steiner, the proprietor, and his wife. One of the duo appeared in the former barroom, where he found Mr. Steiner engaged in a quiet game of cards with a few friends, and flashing his star upon the proprietor, informed him that he intended to raid the place. Mr. Steiner told him to proceed if that was his intent, and was so little disturbed by the intruder's appearance that he did not even get up from the card table. He was unmindful of the fact, however, that another enforcement officer had rushed into the dining room with a flashlight and after almost knocking Mrs. Steiner over informed her that he was in search of "booze" and demanded to be shown everything. After ransacking the sideboard and linen chest he dashed into a closet off the dining room usually kept under lock and key by Mrs. Steiner because of the fact that she has therein personal effects, money, preserves, etc., and here the sleuth brought to light a portion of a bottle of white wine. The wine had been given to Mrs. Steiner as a present and she kept it there for her own use when tired from overwork. The detective accused her of having the wine there to sell, and when she vigorously denied that implication and called her girl, Miss Norma Hansen, to corroborate her statement, the government agent is said to have remarked: "Well, if you haven't been selling it, you are a d——— fool. Don't think I'm a prohibitionist; I'm just doing my duty. I like a shot as well as anybody. To tell you the truth, I'm dry right now." He then dashed into the kitchen and pounced upon a demijohn which proved to contain nothing but water glass for preserving eggs.

Mrs. Steiner was then commanded by the officer to show him the rooms upstairs in the hotel, and as she went out into the hall she saw the second officer in the barroom, and by this time having found no liquors he was demanding that an old safe on the premises be opened. The safe was purchased by Steiner with the hotel property and he had never been able to get it opened. He explained the circumstances and, after questioning onlookers, the sleuth contented himself with putting a seal on it.

The other gumshoe man then proceeded to search the upper floor of the Union, demanding to be shown Mrs. Steiner's room, several guest rooms, and Mr. Steiner's room. In the latter he found in a bureau drawer several partly filled bottles of various liquors and a whole bottle of imported cognac which had never been opened. Steiner had saved these bottles from his stock with the coming of prohibition, believing that he had a perfect right to keep it in his own room for his personal use or for family sickness. Before he put the liquor away he asked the local constable if it was alright and he assured him that he thought he was within his rights, as a permanent guest at a hotel is entitled to keep liquor for personal use. The enforcement agent, however, seized every bottle and, after rejoining his confederate below, left the hotel.

Nothing whatever was found in the barroom, the "crime" uncovered amounting to the finding of a few bottles of wine and liquor which the proprietor and his wife kept for their own use in what they regard their home.

The search and seizure performance included other Sonoma Valley hotels and resorts, Boyes, Fetters, Caliente Villa and the Depot Hotel.

At Caliente Villa an onslaught was made on a quantity of shellac, furniture polish and hair tonic belonging to A. Nevramont, owner of the property. No alcoholic beverages were found.

At the Depot Hotel the officers brought to light several hundred gallons of wine and also grapo, and, after summoning Deputy Sheriff Ryan to witness the destruction of the liquor, the detectives knocked out the bungs of the wine barrels and smashed many bottles, letting the cherished possession of the proprietress, Annie Acquistpace, run out on the ground in the presence of the woman and her little crippled son.

HOYLE ANSWERS CHARGES MADE BY RECALLERS

District Attorney Replies to Critics Who Accuse Him of Hampering County Engineer.

"In view of the fact that some of my friends whose minds have evidently been posioned by malicious falsehoods uttered by persons who failed to get illegal measures by me, have joined in a movement to recall me, I feel it my duty, in justice to my many friends who have placed me in office, and those whom I serve, to make a brief statement, and here ask your indulgence for a little space.

"I was not present at the meeting last Thursday and hence know nothing of what happened except the newspaper reports and street comment. From these sources, however, I hear that according to some speaker I am incompetent. Having been subject to the scrutinizing gaze of the public for the last thirteen years while I have been in the district attorney's office I feel that it would be an insult to the intelligence of my constituents to comment on my competency or incompetency for the office which I occupy.

"I also hear that I have failed to do my duty, but in what respect my critic failed to state, or if he did I have not been informed. Possibly it was for failing, when aided by two of the best attorneys in the county, hired by the prosecuting witness, to convict a man indicted by the grand jury against my advice after five of the best peace officers in the county and myself had thoroughly investigated the case.

"I further hear that I am accused of holding up road work and bills for road work on the bond roads. Without indulging in strong language permit me to say that one who makes that statement is a stranger to the truth. Owing to the failure of others to comply with the law I did hold up some road claims for a short time, but more than six weeks ago, those who had failed to comply with the law admitted their error and agreed to comply with the law and so far as I know have complied with the law ever since and for more than six weeks I have held up no claims nor interfered with the bond road work in any respect.

"I have also heard that I am charged with tying the hands of the county engineer in the first, second, fourth and fifth supervisorial districts by preventing him from using the money of the respective districts for road repair work. I have never interfered with the road repair work in any road district at any time or in any way, and as for the county engineer having a free hand to spend all the available money in the four supervisorial districts above named it may be well to give a few figures taken from the records in the auditor's office as to the Doss and Charles supervisorial districts from whence I hear comes most of the complaint.

"All the road districts formerly in Doss' district have been consolidated and is now known as 'Road District 2.' In that district out of a total annual tax less 10 per cent amounting to $24,102.47, only $2364.67 remained unexpended on March 29th, with March bills yet to be paid. All of the general road fund money apportioned to that district, $8148.13, has been spent, together with $357.25 belonging to other districts. In addition to this, notwithstanding published quotations to the effect that no money from the general fund had been spent in any of the road districts, $11,402.22 has been expended from the general fund in Doss' district, and also $1907.43 from the bridge fund.

"In three of the four road districts in Charles' district, the funds are overdrawn in the aggregate sum of $140.77, while in the other road districts there remains only $253.33 with March bills still unpaid.

"In Charles' district also with an apportionment from the general road fund of $5047.52 there has been expended $9410.20, making an overdraft of $4362.68.

"There has also been expended in his district from the general fund the neat little sum of $24,954.84, and from the bridge fund $1934.39.

"March bills are not included in any of the above figures.

"Does this look as though I had hampered the county engineer very much in the expenditure in these districts? There are four months' bills yet to come in for this fiscal year and if any work is to be done where is the money to come from?

"These figures do not include a little sum of $51,919.32 which has been the expense of the county engineer's office up to March 1st, as that has been paid separately out of the general fund.

"Have I guarded the funds of the county too closely or have I committed an unpardonable error in demanding some semblance of a compliance with the law in the expenditure of the people's money?

"I have much more information which may be of interest to the public which I can give later but I do not wish to intrude further upon your valuable space at this time.

"Permit me to say in conclusion that while I remain district attorney I shall strive to perform my duty and protect the interests of the people whom I have the honor to represent, to the best of my ability.

"Sincerely yours,
"G. W. HOYLE."

AMERICAN LEGION DANCE MAY 1

"Variety is the spice of life" seems to be the slogan the local Legionaries are working on in arranging their social dances. The masquerade ball held last month, which was in itself an evening of novelties, is to be far surpassed in their next dance—May the first. The dance is to be a real old fashioned hard times ball, reverting somewhat to the old time barn dances where the John Paul Jones and the square dance reigned supreme.

Many original ideas in hall decorations are being worked out, and with Heinie Gentry's jazz dispensers at hand an enjoyable evening is looked forward to.

Henry Weber, who has proved himself a proficient dance manager, has been selected to manage this coming ball with the assistance of a committee consisting of Ray Cooper, Neal Dodge, Newt Dal Poggeto, and Ralph Ring.

SONOMA TO ORGANIZE HOOVER CLUB

Messrs. Stringham and Olney were in town Thursday in the interest of Herbert Hoover's candidacy for president of the United States. They reported great enthusiasm for Mr. Hoover throughout the Napa and Sonoma Valleys.

Temporary organization of a Hoover club was effected here by the visitors, Messrs. Dal Poggetto, W. L. Murphy and Frank Burris being committeemen who will issue a call for a big meeting here shortly. The Sonoma Valley Hoover Club will be a decided factor in the coming primary election.

A WORLD REBUILT

By the Golden Rule not by the rule of Gold

THIRTY denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign in the week of April 25th-May 2nd.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

These churches know that the world needs many things; but it needs Faith most of all.

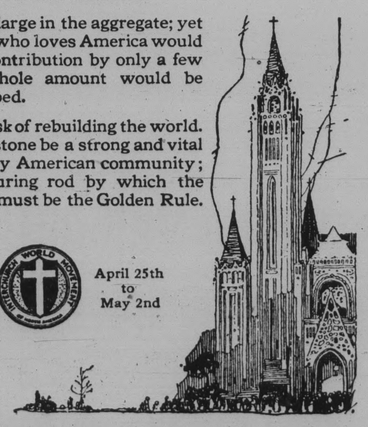

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the Churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

HOYLE AND THE RECALL FIASCO

Sonoma County is to be embroiled in the turmoil of recall proceedings, inspired by a hot-headed, ill- advisd, impetuous coterie of citizens anxious to speed up highway construction and blaming the halting progress of the work to two county officials, Supervisor Cunningham and District Attorney George Hoyle. Cunningham will fight it out in his own district and many leading county papers believe he had good reasons, as did his confreres, Supervisors Weise and Goddard, for not turning over his road district to the county engineer. For instance the Healdsburg Tribune of last Thursday says editorially:

From all over the county comes protest after protest that the roads are not being kept up as they had been under the supervisorial control plan, which was abandoned when the county engineer system was adopted.

It looks as if the Board of Supervisors must either get some action out of their present highway engineer, or get another man on the job, for with the roads in poor condition at this time of the year when they should be at their best, considering the open winter we have been having, it does not look very favorable for a dry season of summer travel.

Perhaps Supervisor Cunningham is wise in resisting the turning over of his roads to the new engineer. Certainly Engineer Aldrich has not shown the people of this county that he is able to better care for the roads where he has had ample opportunity to demonstrate his work. Have the people made a mistake in adopting this new system which looks so well theoretically?

Sonoma Valley is willing and anxious to be shown the advantage of the new system but must be shown because the plan is new and the county engineer's powers must be fixed and clearly defined as he is to expend over a million dollars of the people's money. District Attorney Hoyle, duly elected to protect the people and advise the county officials in this and other matters, was not swept off his feet by the enthusiasm for the new plan of road building. As much as he, like overy other progressive citizen of Sonoma County, wanted to see the county teem with the building of the new system of highways, he first considered the legality of the whole proceeding, and seeing flaws and chances for recklessness, if not graft, gave advice, when called upon to legalize certain claims, that antagonized certain road enthusiasts. He further questioned County Engineer Aldrich's right to handle a revolving fund—money which was to be put to his credit and paid out by him as he saw fit. Mr. Hoyle believed the claims should be passed upon by the Supervisors, who are alone held responsible for expenditure of public money. His stand against Aldrich's plan to handle thousands of dollars, regardless of strict business and legal requirements, made an enemy of Aldrich. The Taxpayers' Association's leader, too, thought Hoyle might have winked at the law and given the county engineer a free hand to spend county money and a strong arm to thrust aside mere law.

The district attorney demanded the law's compliance, and though he pointed out ways to facilitate the highway work which would not be illegal and fully cover exigencies such as supplying Aldrich with a pay roll twice a month by calling the Supervisors in special session for the purpose, the highway builders and their backers wanted a free rein and no questions asked.

After matters were threshed out in court and the attorney general of the state still further defined the procedure in Sonoma County's road building plan, Mr. Aldrich complied, as originally advised by Sonoma County's district attorney, and though some work had to be readvertised and a new start made, work since that time has been proceeding, and there is every evidence of Mr. Aldrich's having been able to spend money freely. Just how freely, and with what judgment, the Supervisors are best in a position to say, but in one instance on the Petaluma-Sonoma road, estimated to cost $125,000, a contract was let to do the five miles out of Petaluma for $105,000, leaving but $20,000 for the 11 miles leading to Sonoma

District Attorney Hoyle may be old fashioned, too conservative, and too much of a stickler for law to suit those who have the frenzied finance virus in their blood, and in their fanatical zeal and speed mania want roads built overnight, but he is the hope of the taxpayer who has not money to burn in either gasoline or reckless county expenditure and has the confidence of an immense constituency in Sonoma County.

The recall by which it is proposed to spend $8,000 to get Mr. Hoyle out of office is an audacious attempt to unseat one of the best officials Sonoma County has ever had.

THE RECALL IS a mean instrument and should not be invoked except where an official has been guilty of malfeasance in office, graft or notorious conduct. If voters stand for the indiscriminate use of the recall club, which enemies can wield and make the taxpayers pay for it, fearless candidates for public office will become scarcer than ever. The only ones we can get to run will be mere puppets who will drop their books at the first big noise and jump at the crack of the whip.

GEO. BRUNS SUES M. A. BOHLIG FOR $20,000

Action for Libel Based on Article Which Defendant Published Regarding El Veranoan.

George Bruns has filed a $20,000 libel suit in the Superior Court against his neighbor, Michael A. Bohlig, as the outgrowth of a divorce suit filed recently by Mrs. Bruns against her husband, charging extreme and unjust cruelty and charges by her husband that she was unduly intimate with Bohlig.

Bruns came back with a reply to the effect that he not only made the charges but that he would prove them and characterized Bohlig as a pro-German and enemy of the country. Then Bohlig entered the scene, publishing a reply in the Sonoma Expositor under date of February 28 last, under the caption "Explanation of Charge of Pro-German", in which he took occasion to say of Bruns:

"Three women, not knowing what they do, bent on mischief, and putting their own reputation in jeopardy; and a primitive man, lacking the finer sensibilities that help to make life more pleasant, controlled by a mad, indecent desire for revenge, have formed an unholy alliance to bring humiliation, shame and disgrace upon an innocent, unfortunate woman and her two children, whose father must have forgotten that they are his.

"That I must stand by idly to see and know her suffer from, and reel under cruel and baseless accusations, and that I cannot come to her assistance in her darkest hour, fills me with anger and grief."

Bruns, in his complaint, alleges that "the defendant, Michael A. Bohlig, wilfully and malicously with intent to injure, disgrace and defame plaintiff, and to expose him to hatred, contempt and oblioquy, and to cause him to be shunned and avoided, wrote and delivered a letter to the editor of the Sonoma Expositor requesting said editor to print and publish the same."

The complaint continuing declared that the publication is "false, unprivileged and libelous and was written, published and caused to be printed as aforesaid by defendant of and concerning the plaintiff, and defendant understood and meant thereby that the plaintiff, whom he termed a primitive man, had allied himself and conspired with three women to bring humiliation, shame and disgrace upon his (plaintiff's) wife and two daughters, and that plaintiff must have forgotten that he was the father of his said two daughters and that plaintiff had made cruel and baseless accusations against his wife which had caused her to suffer."

As a second and still further cause of action the plaintiff charges that Bohlig warned one James J. Peterson by saying "You don't want to have anything to do with George Bruns. He is dishonest and a crook and doesn't pay his bills. He is no good and his wife is going to leave him soon."

The plaintiff asks for $10,000 in each cause of action.

L. MONTALDO AND FAMILY LEAVE ON TRIP TO ITALY

L. Montaldo, wife, and five children, and S. Falco, his partner, leave Oakland tomorrow for a six or eight months' visit to Italy. Messrs. Montaldo and Falco have been prominent dairymen of the Sonoma Valley and their many friends here will wish them bon voyage.

Mr. Montaldo goes to the old country primarily to see his mother, who is alone there and getting quite old. He has considerable property interests at Vado Ligure, near where Westinghouse, the American millionaire, owns a 5-mile strip along the coast for which he paid $500,000 some twelve years ago.

Mr. Montaldo has one brother residing in South America, and he is the only other son. He may bring his mother to America with him upon his return. He has not been to Italy for sixteen years.

All the Montaldo family are taking the trip except the two daughters who are employed in San Francisco banks.

Some interesting letters of the journey and conditions in Italy will be sent to the Index-Tribune by the party during their sojourn abroad and will be published in these columns.

George Cassidy, the new High school trustee, was a Santa Rosa visitor Tuesday last.

EASTERTIDE CARD REVEALS SENTIMENT OF IRELAND

We are in receipt of a beautiful Easter card from our El Verano friend, M. F. Mulley, commemorative of the Resurrection and Ireland's rise for freedom. The verses on the card are from Teresa Brayton and among them are the following:

After the shameful night in Pilate's hall
After the heavy cross, the draught of gall,
Behold Christ lives, and Ireland breaks her thrall.
Alleluia.

Though quick-limed graves may hold her martyred dead
Their country's bosom is their hallowed bed,
And Ireland's Easter flames above their head.

GENERAL VALLEJO'S OWN WORDS; ORIGIN OF SONOMA

The following historical article was copied from official state records compiled in 1850, and recently unearthed in the capitol basement by Ed. Head, keeper of the state archives.

It is a special report made to the California legislature in 1850 on the origin of California county names. The report was prepared by Gen. Mariano G. Vallejo—then a state senator—and a big factor in early California history.

Sonoma—The name of this county is an Indian word, signifying 'the valley of the moon," by which the aborigines designated the valley wherein the town of that name is situated.

The tribe occupying this valley was called Chocuyem, but in 1824 on the arrival there of the first expedition for the purpose of establishing a mission, the name of "Sonoma" having been given to their chief by the paternal minister, Jose Altimira, the Chocuyems then adopted the same, which they still retain.

This, as well as the other tribes who occupy the tract which now composes the counties of Sonoma and Marin, were dependent on a great chief who bore the heathen name of Marin de Licatuit, as mentioned in the history of the county of that name.

Sonoma is the most beautiful and picturesque valley in northern California, and from its topographical situation fronting the bay of San Pablo; from its delightful climate, fertile soil, abundant timber of all kinds close by, and from its pure and sweet water, it is destined very soon to become one of the most populous parts of that valuable section of the country. There are hot springs in its vicinity which, from their medicinal virtues, may in future rival those of Arkansas.

Sonoma is at present the residence of the commander in chief of the western division of the army in California and Oregon. In the Pueblo de Sonoma there occurred an incident which will render the town celebrated in the history of the country, to wit:

On June 14 (of perpetual memory) a certain personage ordered a certain flag to be there hoisted on whose white surface was conspicuously to be seen a certain animal; after other certain personages had taken the place by surprise they took a second personage prisoner to a certain fort on the eastern bank of a certain river in which they locked him up for two months, during which he was overtaken by a certain disease which prevails there yearly; and from which he was set at liberty very nearly on the point of or on the eve of settling accounts with a third personage whose emblematic figure throughout the world is that of a skeleton armed with a scythe in his right hand."

The subsequent fame of the name, Valley of the Moon, makes General Vallejo's explanation of particular interest. Splendidly significant also is his allusion to the hot springs and their medicnal virtues, for it proves present day contentions that Sonoma Valley mineral springs are Nature's great curative, long recognized by those seeking health and rejuvenation as a panacea for various diseases. In the days of General Vallejo there was no thought of the commercial value of Sonoma Valley's curative hot springs and their exploitation and development to present day magnificence was beyond the most sanguine dreams of the old residents.

Vallejo's allusion to the June 14th Bear Flag incident in the above article is fraught with deep meaning and shows his resentment and scorn for the party which in 1846 wrested Sonoma from Mexican control by taking him prisoner and raising aloft the crude Bear Flag which was subsequently replaced by the Stars and Stripes, signifying California's new allegiance to the United States. General Vallejo never forgave the discourtesy and uncouth behavior of the impetuous Americans who precipitated American dominion, though he often reiterated that if duly constituted authority of the United States had demanded his surrender he would have yielded to it gracefully. The revolutionists treated him harshly and subjected his household to insults while taking the general a prisoner. Neithed he nor his family ever forgot and his descendants to this day cherish resentment toward the Bear Flag incident which they regard as a blot on California's history.

MISS IDA DAWSON TO WED ATTORNEY

Miss Ida Dawson, daughter of the late Dr. W. G. Dawson of the State Home, is to wed a promnent attorney of Alberquerque, New Mexico. The wedding will be one of early spring and will be at the home of the bride's mother in Berkeley, where the family have lived since the death of Dr. Dawson at Eldridge.

Misses Ida and Evelyn Dawson, daughters of the medical superintendent, took a prominent part in club and social affairs while residents of Sonoma Valley and the news of the approaching wedding of Miss Ida to Mr. Brothers will be received here with much interest.

SONOMA'S NEW WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER

Sonoma has a new business place with the coming of Fernando Mosso, watchmaker and jeweler, to the up-to-date store in the Dal Peggetto block. Mr. Mosso is well known to the people of Sonoma Valley and his expert workmanship has already won him a good patronage that will increase with his splendid new location in the business district of Sonoma. He is a fine mechanic and has bought fixtures and equipment for his new store from L. Chopard, of Petaluma, who recently retired from the business there.

WIFE ASKS SEPARATION BY COURT

Mrs. Celia Hunt, through her attorney, Frank Sprague, nas asked the court to grant her a divorce from her husband, Howard Hunt, whom she alleges deserted her several years ago. Mrs. Hunt, who is a sister of Mrs. P. Norrbom, is well known in Sonoma where she was formerly the popular bookkeeper and clerk in her brother's feed store.

Charles Capell of Berkeley, owner of a young prune orchard near Vineburg, spent several days here this week looking after his place.

SPRAY FOR THRIPS

If anyone has been skeptical in the past about the injury thrip can do and is doing to our prune, pear, and cherry crops, the results this spring should be convincing. We must acknowledge that our spring campaign against the adults has not been a complete success, and thus the more necessity for killing the young which are now appearing on the trees.

The slow unfolding of the bud clusters gave the adult thrips an unusually long period to work before we could get at them with a killing application; as a result many laid their eggs so we may expect a large number of young to appear and prey on the leaves and tiny prunes, causing the prunes to be scabby and the leaves to curl and lose part of their surface. Not only will we suffer loss from this attack, but we will have a tremendous crop of adults to fight next spring.

These young thrips appears as little white grubs and any good contact insecticide will kill them if it hits them. The blossoms should be allowed to fall before applying this spray so that no damage can be done to the crop.

The same spray as used for the adults may be used for these young—a light oil emulsion, 3 gallons, and Blackleaf-forty 7 ounces to each 100 gallons of water. If you prefer, soap at the rate of 5 pounds, or better, commercial flour paste 6 pounds to the 100 gallons, may take the place of the oil emulsion.

The trees should be sprayed the first or middle of next week (April 14th) and this application may have to be followed by a second spray a week later should the young thrips continue to appear.

Order your spray at once so the dealers wil be prepared to supply you. If you wait until ready to spray there may be a shortage of material.

If the tent caterpillars are also attacking your trees you may use 3 pounds of arsenate of lead with the flour paste and Blackleaf-forty combination.

Harold Weise of the University of California, law department, was up for the week end with his father and mother, Supervisor and Mrs. J. Harry Weise.

POPULAR MUSICIANS TO BE AT BOYES FOR SEASON

Patrons of Boyes' Springs theatre will be delighted to learn that Wilson's Jazz Orchestra is to return to Boyes' Springs for the season of 1920. There will be pictures and dancing at the theatre as usual, and it looks like a big year. Dancing will also be inaugurated at the bath house in the day-time.

The return of the Wilsons assures excellent music at the big resort. They are now playing at the fashionable Maryland Hotel in San Diego. After leaving here last summer, the Wilsons went to Muskogee, Okla., where they joined a musical comedy company touring several states for a very successful engagement. Later on, Mr. Wilson was very ill with the flu and was in Chicago until January, when he brought his orchestra out to San Diego for the winter season.

The Wilsons have sent greetings to their friends in the Valley of the Moon and the message that they will be on deck at Boyes' this summer with the best and latest of music.

NOTICE

AS THE SAFETY VALVE SEES PROHIBITION

Editor The Chronicle—Sir: For the enforcement of the prohibition law a special constabulary swarms over this city and public money is spent without stint. For the enforcement of the law against homicide and robbery we are dependent on the regular but inadequate police force. The visitor from Mars would think, therefore, that we regard it as vastly more important that an Italian laborer should not carry to his work a flask of thin wine to wash down his midday meal, than that automobile bandits should not slay and rob and terrorize a city. Sir, it is a stupendous comedy. W. M. McKINNEY.

POUNDMASTER AND IRATE SETTLER OF LOVEALL MIX

What's in a name? All is not love in Loveall Valley. In fact, there is such intense hate there between Poundmaster H. C. Kester and some of the settlers, such as M. H. Tracey, that fisticuff battles are becoming frequent. Tracey and Kester mixed it the past week and the poundmaster was pounded, so onlookers attest. Tracy was so well satisfied with the job he had done that he came to town and tried to pay a fine. Deputy Sheriff Ryan told him that he was getting the cart before the horse but might have the privilege of paying a fine if Kester swore to a warrant. Tracey went away peeved and Kester has not appeared to file a complaint.

Donald McDonell, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McDonell of Sebastopol visited his aunt, Librarian Kate McDonell last Saturday and Sunday.

John Pluth has arranged to conduct his place as a first-class grill. The Eagle Cafe will specialize on short orders, sandwiches and merchants' lunch.

Mrs. L. S. Simmons and daughter, Gladys, spent Easter in San Francisco where they attended services at Rev. Parker Boyd's church.

The library trustees met Tuesday and after transacting routine business selected a number of new books which will be purchased for the shelves from money which the recent card party netted. About $30 was realized from the benefit.

The art collection made for the benefit of the Jack London memorial library and which was on exhibition at the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco will bring the Glen Ellen Woman's Club over $2000 nearer the much cherished goal.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hooper of San Francisco were up last week with Easter presents for their grandchildren who reside at the Goodman home on Broadway. Mrs. Hooper is contemplating a trip East to visit a married daughter who resides there.

You will read it first in the Index-Tribune.

MRS. GEORGE ZANE IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Mrs. George Zane of Woodland, Yolo County, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Neal Zane, met with a serious accident near their home in Woodland Monday when their automobile collided with another car on the highway. Mrs. Zane suffered a fractured collar bone and other injuries.

She is a sister of Claude Johnson of this place and a singular coincidence is that Mr. Johnson and family passed within four miles of the accident the day it happened. Mr. Johnson was coming from Fresno with a load of furniture and regretted that he could not stop off and visit his sister. When he reached here he received a phone message concerning the accident.

S. F. CAPITALIST INVESTS IN VALLEY OF THE MOON

F. F. Partridge, San Francisco capitalist and speculator, has been acquiring considerable property in the Valley of the Moon. Mr. Partridge was the purchaser of the Chevalier place at El Verano with the commodious residence, aviary, garden and other improvements. To this attractive holding he has added the Chris Thompson place; that of A. McGill, and also the property of Mrs. Woodworth, in the same vicinity. Mr. Partridge will join the properties in making for himself a beautiful country home. Orem and Butter of Boyes closed all the deals.

Sonoma Valley is to be congratulated on acquiring Mr. Partridge as a resident and property owner of this section. He is a progressive, wide-awake citizen, interested in many utilities, among them the sight-seeing busses of San Francisco.

Bert Kerner was up over the last week end from Vallejo.

SONOMA VALLEY RANCH GROWS TOMATO PLANTS

The Glen Oaks ranch at Glen Ellen is specializing this year on tomato plants and summer squash. Over 100,000 tomato plants of the famous San Jose Canner brand will be ready for growers by May the first. They have been carefully propagated from selected seed by R. Pierce, a young Ohio State university agricultural graduate who is manager for R. B. Swayne, owner of Glen Oaks.

The big greenhouses on the ranch are being utilized for an early production of summer squash which is contracted for at a handsome price by San Francisco buyers.

Mr. Pierce advises Sonoma tomato growers to place their orders early for tomato plants. See prices in display ad on page 2.

JACK MURRAY SUFFERS BROKEN ARM

Jack Murray, the constable, suffered a bad break to his wrist when cranking his car one day this week. The self-starter refused to work and Murray attempted to start the machine in the old fashioned way. It kicked and the constable will be laid up for some time as a result of the painful accident. Dr. Thomson attended him.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our gratitude and thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their kindness during the illness and death of a beloved husband and father. For words of sympathy, messages of condolence, and beautiful flowers, we are deeply appreciative.

Signed,

Margaret Riedert of Kenwood, the child who wandered away and was reported lost last Friday, was found Tuesday near Napa by J. H. Murray. She was cold and hungry and suffered from exhaustion and exposure. The child was restored to her mother. The officer believes she was the victim of wanderlust. She originally came from Vienna, Austria, making the trip unaccompanied.

Mrs. Anna Haight, wealthy resident of Edmonton, Canada, who has been spending the winter in Pasadena, was a guest of her cousin, Mrs. Julius Pancrazi, recently. A MESSAGE OF WARNING
READ! IMPORTANT!
Do you realize that the value of your insurable property, if acquired before 1916, has practically doubled? Do you know that the present cost of replacement, less a reasonable reduction for use, would be the basis of payment in the event of loss or damage? Have you increased your insurance proportionately? If not, you are liable to suffer a severe monetary loss. See me.
